Freighter Picks Up 41 In Ocean

NEW YORK — (AP) — Forty crewmen and one stowaway, who were rescued in the Atlantic last night after abandoning a leaking Spanish freighter, today were safe aboard another freighter bound for Philadelphia.

The 41 persons took to lifeboats when their vessel, the 3,688-ton Castillo Guadalest, sprang a leak in her No. 2 cargo hold. The cause of the leak has not been determined.

The survivors, picked up about 740 miles southeast of New York by the Honduran freighter Eurytheus, all were described in good condition.

The radioed "SOS" of the stricken ship was received by a British freighter, the Abraham Baldwin, which in turn notified the coast guard. The radio message exchange indicated that the Guadalest would sink within eight hours and that it was "A Menace to Navigation."

British Oil Workers Evacuate Fields In Iranian Breakdown

ABADAN, Iran — (AP) — Officials of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company began chartering special planes today to fly British workers at the shut-down Abadan refinery home. It was uncertain when the arrangements could be completed.

Car-loads of tired and dusty oil men continued to arrive here from the desert oil fields following a London order telling them to concentrate at the refinery. The order came after talks between Britain and Iran over the oil dispute broke down.

All the 226 men seemed pleased with the decision to evacuate the fields. They said it was becoming increasingly difficult to work among the Iranians since production at the wells has stopped.

Collision Of Trains

At Metz Fatal To 20

METZ, France — (AP) — The death toll from a crash of two crack International express trains stood at 20 today. Six dead were Americans.

More than 30 persons were injured including seven American soldiers.

The American dead included four soldiers and an educator and a woman.

The crash occurred yesterday when a train bound from Basel Switzerland, to Calais, France, smashed into the rear of one bound from Frankfurt, Germany, to Paris. The Frankfurt-Paris train was standing outside the Sany-Sur-Nied station near here.

Ridgway Blisters Reds In Armistice Message

Two train crew members were injured when the second section of wayfreight No. 22 of the DSS&A railway was derailed near Shingleton, about 12 miles east of Shingleton, at 2:20 this morning. A broken angle bar on the rail caused the wreck.

The injured, who were taken to St. Luke's hospital in Marquette, are:

Conductor Charles Millward, Marquette, leg and hip bruises.

Brakeman Clarence DesJardins, Marquette, slight bruises and loosened teeth.

Four carloads of champion iron mine ore and the caboose were derailed and tore up about four hundred feet of track. The DSS&A wrecker went out from Marquette at 5 a. m. and it is expected the line will be open for traffic this afternoon.

The train, consisting of 43 loads and 17 empties, was in charge of Engineer James Cline of Marquette and Conductor Millward.

Next Move Up To Communists In Truce Crisis

Allied Chief Willing To Resume Talks

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today sent a blistering message to top Red commanders in Korea and left it up to them whether armistice talks would continue in Kaesong.

The supreme Allied commander said he was willing to resume negotiations, halted by the Reds.

But he rejected as "malicious falsehoods" Communist accusations that United Nations forces violated Kaesong's neutrality.

Charge Preposterous

Reds broke off the talks two days ago. They demanded a "satisfactory" answer to their charge that a United Nations warplane attacked Kaesong to murder the Red delegation.

Ridgway's reply said the charge was "so utterly false, so preposterous and so obviously manufactured" that it did not merit a reply.

The next step was up to the Communists. Ridgway's scathing message gave them a hard choice.

The harshly-worded reply was sent to Kim Il Sung, North Korean premier, and Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, commander of Chinese Red forces in Korea.

It was first broadcast over the armed forces radio, then delivered to a Chinese liaison officer at the Red outpost of Panmunjom, six miles east of Kaesong.

Delegation Ready

The last paragraph of the door open—just a crack—for a resumption of talks.

Ridgway said, "When you are prepared to terminate the suspension of armistice negotiations... I will direct my representatives to meet with yours, with a view to seeking a reasonable armistice agreement."

The Allied delegation, headed by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, stood by at United Nations advance headquarters in Munsan, ready to go to Kaesong if the Reds give the word.

Lightning Sets Off
Damsite Dynamite;
8 Killed, 10 Injured

WONDERVU, Colo. — (AP) — Eight men were killed or fatally injured and 10 hurt yesterday when lightning touched off a dynamite blast at a damsite and searchers still checked today to see if there were other casualties.

The explosion sent a rain of boulders and debris smashing down on the site of a $12,000,000 dam project of the City of Denver in South Boulder Creek Canyon, a gash in the front range of the Rocky Mountains.

The damsite is about 35 miles northwest of Denver and is south-west of Boulder, the site of the University of Colorado.

Between 50 and 60 men were working in the area when the lightning touched off the dynamite which was to have been fired when the day shift went off duty at 5 p. m. (MST). The blast was at 1:40 P. M.

Superintendent T. L. McDonald of the Macco-Pudget Sound company, project contractor, said "10 or 12" cases of dynamite were discharged. The canon walls rise 365 feet above the creek at the point of the blast.

Some of the men were loading powder holes drilled on both sides of the canyon. Others were in the bottom of the chasm cleaning up rock from previous blasts. The lightning apparently hit both sides of the canyon and touched off charges about 60 feet above the bottom.

Ambulances from Boulder and Denver were rushed to the scene. Hospitals and doctors were alerted by radio and telephone. At Boulder, 150 persons responded to a call for blood donors.

U. M. Embezzling Totals $34,000

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — The alleged embezzlements that led the University of Michigan to dismiss its famed bacteriologist, Dr. Malcolm H. Soule, amounted to more than $34,000.

A few minutes after he was fired Aug. 3 Dr. Soule injected a mixture of snake venom and morphine into his veins and died. He left a note saying he could not bear the disgrace.

It was not until yesterday that the University disclosed the full amount involved in embezzlements which it said started in 1938, or the way in which they were carried out.

President Alexander G. Ruthven said Dr. Soule had been a genius system of falsified invoices made in the names of sellers of small animals used in experiments.

Travel vouchers for Dr. Soule's visitors to the university were faked by Dr. Soule, the university said.

Dr. Ruthven said the university has filed a claim to recover $13,800 in verified defalcation from the National Surety Corp. of New York. He said a further claim may be filed later.

After his death Dr. Soule was disclosed to have been suffering for a long time from cancer.

The steel, packed in five-ton lots, fell at the Budd Co. plant.

The body of Clayton Carrier, 36, was recovered from the bottom of the pile after two hours of work by rescuers using a crane.

Injured were Anthony New-some, 26; Thomas Raney, 35; Edward Bonner, 42, and Vanole Murphy, 25.

Law Students Claim Draft Boards Call Them Non-Essential

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The American Council on Education said today it has had complaints from some law students that draft boards are discriminating against them.

The council said these students charged that despite good scholastic standings and high scores in the recent aptitude tests, they were classified 1-A because they said, their draft boards felt that "lawyers—more lawyers—are not essential."

At the same time, the students complained that the same boards have been granting deferments to college men training to become engineers or physicists, on the ground that those are essential occupations.

McCarthy Says Red Paper Likes Truman

LINCOLN, Neb. — (AP) — Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) declared that in 1944 the Communist newspaper Daily Worker made a friendly gesture toward President Truman and Mr. Truman thanked the newspaper for it.

McCarthy's statement was made in a network radio address (CBS) here yesterday in answer to President Truman's Aug. 14 attack on "Scandal Mongers" and "Character Assassins." McCarthy interpreted this to include him although the President mentioned no names.

The Wisconsin senator said that after Mr. Truman was nominated for vice-president in 1944, the Daily Worker published an article of which "The whole tenor" was that the Worker approved and that Truman was their second choice after (Henry A.) Wallace.

McCarthy said that "on Aug. 14, on Senate stationery, Truman wrote a letter to the public relations director of the Communist Daily Worker, warmly thanking him and complimenting him on his excellent analysis and gave him permission to print the Truman letter, which the Daily Worker, printed on Aug. 20, 1944."

The Wisconsin senator declared that "If we continue another 15 years at the rate we are going international atheistic Communism will have all of the world caught in its net."

Wan U. S. Envoy Talks To Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (AP) — President Truman's roving trouble-shooter W. Averell Harriman arrived here today to talk with Premier Marshall Tito about Yugoslavia's basic needs in the way of military and economic assistance.

Enroute home from Tehran Harriman looked wan and weary from his long efforts to break the deadlock in the now suspended negotiations between Britain and Iran over oil nationalization.

Harriman said his mission to Yugoslavia was to talk to Tito about "various assistance programs" both military and economic.

After a quick breakfast here, he flew on to Bled, Yugoslavia's summer capital in the Slovenian Alps, to meet the Yugoslav marshal. It will be his second meeting with Tito. The first was six years ago in Moscow, when he was ambassador there and Tito was a (then) friendly visitor to the Soviet capital.

The United States has furnished Yugoslavia with more than $100,000,000 worth of economic aid during the past year.

Voice Of America Fund Restored In Senate Money Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate last night passed a $1,045,450,000 money bill carrying $85,000,000 for the state department's "Voice of America" and related activities.

Passage came on a voice vote after a successful Republican-led fight to restore a $22,000,000 appropriations committee slash in funds for the overseas information agency.

Senator Mundt (R-SD) captained the victorious push to match the $85,000,000 the House voted for the "voice." The vote, by roll call, was 82 to 16.

St. Lawrence Seaway Proposal Rejected In Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $7,535,000,000 foreign aid bill is ready for Senate debate next week.

The Senate Foreign Relations and armed services committees—totalling 26 of the 96 Senate members—unanimously approved the measure last night after rejecting, 11 to 4, a proposal to attach to it authority for construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

As finally approved by the two committees, the bill carried $6,013,000,000 in military and $1,522,000,000 in economic aid.

The total was almost $1,000,000 less than the $8,500,000,000 asked by President Truman and but little more than the $7,499,000,000 the House voted.

The major share of help would go to Western European nations within the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO), with Turkey, Greece and other friendly nations assigned unspecified amounts.

The combined committee wrote into the bill a ceiling of $500,000,000 on military aid that might be given to Spain, Yugoslavia and some other nations outside NATO. There was no similar limitation on economic help for them.

Authority over foreign spending was split three ways: the Pentagon would direct military assistance, the economic cooperation administration, most economic aid, and the state department the relatively small "point four" program of help for underdeveloped areas of the world. The House voted to put all foreign aid funds under a single mutual security administration.

Kissing General, 106, Watches Wife, 62, Get Her College Degree

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. — (AP) — The confederacy's 106-year old "kissing general," William Bush, beamingly watched his 62-year old wife receive her college degree.

Afterwards, all decked out in his $300 uniform, from a movie company, the general had a high time autographing confederate money.

He also passed along the observation that he didn't care how much "book learning" his wife had so long as she remained a good cook.

Mrs. Bush was graduated from the Georgia State college for women yesterday with a bachelor of arts degree. After 29 years as a school teacher she finally had earned credits for a sheepskin.

The general, whose title is honorary, gave as his receipt for a long life: "Every time a pretty girl goes in my way, I let 'em have a good kiss—and then they have to turn around and kiss me back."

Air Crash Fatal To 50 Checked For Sabotage

OAKLAND, Calif. — (AP) — FBI and civil aeronautics officials opened investigations today into the crash of United's newest type airliner, a searchers went over a hillside 20 miles south of here for the last of 50 broken bodies.

Object of the FBI probe is to determine whether sabotage caused the DC-6-B to plow into the fog-shrouded hill a few moments from the end of its transcontinental flight early yesterday.

The FBI, in announcing the investigation, would not elaborate or comment whether it was routine.

Plane Off Course?

The civil aeronautics board's investigation was to cover all phases of the accident. Regional Investigator Ralph A. Reed said it would last several days but the CAB probably would know something today whether the ship had strayed from its landing course, as several residents of the area suggested.

United Air Lines said last night searchers quit after bringing down perhaps 41 bodies, most of them on horseback. They were to return today for the other nine—or whatever can be found of them.

The 50 victims included the six-man crew and all 44 passengers—eight children, nine women and 33 men. The ship was flying to Oakland from Boston, Cleveland and Chicago.

Cost About Million

Pilot N. W. Hedden, Redwood City, Calif., last radioed that he was coming in for a landing at 5:27 a. m., seven minutes before he was scheduled to arrive at Oakland.

The big ship struck the hillside and flew apart in a burst of flame several minutes later. There were no close witnesses or survivors.

The big Douglas transport was smashed in thousands of pieces. It had cost United about $1,000,000 and was put in service with six sister ships August 1. Its capacity was 58 passengers, five crewmen and 6,000 pounds of mail.

Farm Outlook Continues Good

'Mild Inflation' To Maintain Prices

The average level of farm prices will go up seasonally and continued "mild inflation" will prevent any decline through the rest of this year, according to L. L. Boger, Michigan State college agricultural economist.

Boger has studied the current inflation to try to figure out what's ahead and find out just where the farmer stands in the economic stream.

So far as the future is concerned, Boger said that there is little danger of a recession or period of generally falling prices for the rest of 1951. Rather he thinks that the chances are about six in ten that a mild inflation will go on, as compared with four in ten for no change.

Increase Is Seasonal

He predicted a two per cent increase in the average level of farm prices, but explained that it's the time of year when that usually happens anyway.

Milk prices usually rise with lowered milk production at the end of the pasture season. Grain prices usually rise following the harvest season. And so it goes—prices will be holding up seasonally.

What's been happening to the farmer as compared to others wading in the economic puddle? Boger said that the record will show that from December, 1950 to March, 1951, farm prices rose 9.5 per cent while prices paid jumped a little over five and a half per cent.

Farm Costs Up

Since March, almost all prices have slipped a little. At present, prices received by farmers are three per cent above December levels, while prices farmers have to pay for things they buy are 6.5 per cent above the same December levels.

Boger explained that prices are the barometer of our economic situation. They rise and fall as events cause either people or the government to change their habits. A wave of scare buying sends prices soaring just as much or more than a jump in federal spending.

"With present world conditions as they are now—jittery and unsettled—the slightest change can cause prices to change fairly rapidly," he said.

EDWARD CLARK MCKEEVER, born Aug. 25, 1910 in San Antonio, Tex. is one of the country's brilliant young football coaches. He is famous for the precision which he whips into his backfield.

McKeever was wartime football coach at Notre Dame University for a year. Later he was head coach at Cornell University and the University of San Francisco. He is now an assistant coach at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.

Boger explained that prices are the barometer of our economic situation. They rise and fall as events cause either people or the government to change their habits. A wave of scare buying sends prices soaring just as much or more than a jump in federal spending.

Paving Program Foresees End Of Dirt Streets In Escanaba

AT the end of this month, the city street construction crew will have completed about half of the 32 blocks of new blacktop pavement scheduled for this season. The rest of the project will be completed in the forepart of September.

The blocks of pavement laid this month by the city crew provide an excellent opportunity for community residents to evaluate the work. The results should encourage more petitions for paving of the remaining dirt streets in the city. Petitions for 24 blocks are already on file in addition to the 32 blocks now under construction.

The blacktop pavement is ideal in the residential areas. It is comparatively inexpensive, yet rugged enough to handle the heaviest traffic likely to develop on residential streets. The paving program promises an end to the inconvenience and miseries of dirt streets in Escanaba within a period of several years.

The present program is for the paving of approximately 16 blocks a year until

Peace Prospects In Korea Dwindling

THE prospects of peace in Korea are dwindling. When the Communists broke off truce negotiations on a trumped-up charge of Allied bombing of Kaesong, the scant hope for peace that previously existed faded even further.

Why the Communists fabricated the story about the bombing, a charge that the Allies vehemently deny as wholly false, still is a mystery. It undoubtedly fits into the Red propaganda program, perhaps to counteract the previous Red blunder in bringing arms into the Kaesong truce area. This incident caused the UN commander to break off the negotiations until assurances were given that it would not happen again. Or it may have been a stall to give the Communists more time to get their instructions from Moscow.

In any case, the hopes for peace in Korea are not bright. The Communists have been rebuilding their forces in the battle area, preparatory to what appears to be another full scale assault on UN positions.

No settlement of the neutral zone squabble is near. The Reds have insisted on a neutral zone conforming to the 38th parallel. The UN mediators, recognizing the 38th parallel as an indefensible position from a military standpoint, have insisted that a neutral zone should be established along the present battle lines.

And that's the situation up to now. The war goes on but only on a limited scale. A resumption of heavy fighting may be in the offing.

Perons In Argentina "Bow To People's Will"

JUAN PERON of Argentina and his pretty wife, Eva, have decided to "bow to the will of the people" and to be running mates in the Argentine presidential election November 11.

Mrs. Peron said that the demand of 250,000 Peronist demonstrators that she be a candidate for vice president came as a "complete surprise." She pleaded for four days to think it over but finally agreed "to do what the people say."

The demonstration must have been quite a surprise indeed to Mrs. Peron. The newspapers throughout the world reported the Argentine shenanigans for weeks, showing how Peron and his wife have engineered the approaching election.

In reality, the election results will make no change in Argentina's political setup. Peron and his wife are already complete dictators, even though Eva presently holds no official governmental position. She directs the country's labor policies and controls the tremendous social aid foundation. The latter, ostensibly a private agency, is financed through Peron black-mailing of Argentine business and industry.

The Peron dictatorship in Argentina is a threat to freedom everywhere. The ruthless suppression of opposition newspapers in Argentina, including La Prensa, once regarded as one of the world's greatest publications, is indicative of the manner in which liberty and freedom are being destroyed by the Perons.

One reason the melancholy days are melancholy is that so many poets insist on writing about them.

Through fingerprints is about the only way a crook can make a good impression.

Grandma Rules

By Gordon Martin

When you go to visit Grandma and you take your child along, it's with great anticipation that he sings a happy song. For at Grandma's house she knows that she can always rule as queen, as you soon find out, if with her play, you try to intervene. While at home she pays attention to the things you have to say, now it's Grandma, and nobody else, your daughter will obey.

You may see her raid the attic for a lot of ancient stuff, and you tell her that her dress-up game has gone quite far enough. But it's then she turns to Grandma, who indulges little tykes, and who says your child can unpack any box or trunk she likes. Thus you're shorn of your authority and have to take your loss, for it's Grandma, in your daughter's eyes, who really is the boss.

It's the same if you should say that no more ice cream cones she'll eat—Grandma says to go and get it and she'll gladly stand the treat. And when bedtime comes, you try to get your girl to sleep on time, but her Grandma rules that staying up is not a youthful crime. So you know you'll lose the battle when to Grandma's house you go, and until you end your visit, Grandma always runs the show.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

MUNICH—At this writing it looks as if the Czech Communists had adopted the same strategy toward the "winds of freedom" operation as the U. S. army did toward the Japanese balloons of death which floated all the way across the Pacific during the war.

What the army was afraid of was that the Japs would realize how successfully their balloons were getting across the vast 5,000-mile stretch of the Pacific; therefore, the balloons' arrival was one of the most carefully censored pieces of news of the entire war.

The army adopted this policy even though it risked the lives of many Americans who did not know that the balloons carried bombs. And as a result, five children and the wife of Rev. Archie Mitchell of Bly, Ore., while on a picnic, went to examine a strange balloon in a tree and were killed.

Adoption of the same policy of silence by the Czech government means either that the Communists don't want us to know that the balloons have been hitting their target; or else Prague is frantically consulting Moscow as to "the party line" regarding friendship balloons. For no satellite government dares take a public stand without first getting its cue from the Kremlin.

CZECH FLYING SAUCERS

Meanwhile, the percentage of "hits" by Operation Winds of Freedom must be almost 100 per cent. For, instead of sending balloons 5,000 miles across the Pacific, we have been working from just 10 miles from the Czech border. Thus almost every balloon is likely to hit—though some may overshoot the mark and come down in Poland.

By this time a total of about 15,000,000 messages have been rained in on 12,500,000 people in an area somewhat smaller than Virginia and West Virginia combined. Most of these messages fall from the sky like rain. They are released from an altitude of 30,000 feet when the Dewey and Almy rubber balloons burst. Two thousand messages are in each of these balloons, written on waterproof paper, and they scatter down in all directions. Incidentally it takes two hours for them to descend.

The other type of pillow balloon probably is treating Czechoslovakia to a siege of flying-saucer heebie-jeebies. For they are smaller editions of the huge plastic pillows made by General Mills which airplane pilots have sighted in the sky and identified as flying saucers. It is now no secret that these flying plastic pillows are part of the navy's experimental work on the cosmic ray.

The much smaller plastic pillows, made by General Mills, which we have been showering over Czechoslovakia, have the same eerie quality as the flying saucers. They come to earth gradually and bounce along the ground. The word "Svoboda" or "Freedom" is in red letters on the side.

INSIDE BALLOON STORY

It is now possible to tell some of the inside facts as to how operation winds of freedom was conceived and executed. Chief credit belongs to C. D. Jackson, dynamic executive of Time, Life and Fortune, now on loan to the Committee for Free Europe. The latter committee, headed by Gen. Lucius Clay, put the freedom bell in Berlin last year and has been doing an important job of beaming broadcasts into satellite countries from two radio stations in Southern Germany.

Jackson and I first conferred regarding friendship balloons on April 13. It was exactly four months later, Aug. 13, that the first balloon was launched over Czechoslovakia.

During the four months more detailed preparation went into this operation than the Czech Communists would ever dream. One meteorologist and two balloon experts were sent to Germany a month in advance. They had to corral hydrogen tanks, trucks, train German launching crews. Every detail had to be thought out beforehand—from selecting different launching sites to take advantage of different wind currents, to arranging for fresh hydrogen to be pumped into the tanks every morning.

Motive behind this operation is fairly simple. Communist undercover operations in the U. S. A. have kept us in a recent state of jitters. Therefore instead of fraying our nerves and using up our energies looking under our beds, we should fry Soviet nerves and keep them in a state of jitters by carrying the propaganda war to the other side of the Iron Curtain.

It has long been the traditional policy of the U. S. A. to fight our battles on the enemy's soil; not on ours. But in the current war of nerves, now one of the most important phases of modern warfare, we have permitted the enemy to keep the offensive and use our territory as the battle ground.

Operation Winds of Freedom, undertaken by private individuals, not government, marks a small start in reversing this.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Five large black bears who visited CCC Camp Escanaba River's garbage dump almost every night attracted 500 sightseers last week. The box seat visitors who look on from perches atop orange and prune crates, spend hours watching the bears, which range in weight from 200 to 35 pounds. As many as 75 people have gathered at the scene to observe the animals feeding.

Gladstone—M. E. Rhea of Sheboygan, Wis., a member of the Coast Guard, will bring an interesting motion picture film depicting the work of the United States Coast Guard to be shown at the Gladstone Yacht club at a regular meeting of the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

20 YEARS AGO

Manistique—Two Manistique young women have been named as members of the student committee which will assist members of the faculty and administration of Lawrence college in carrying out the activities of freshman week beginning Thursday, Sept. 17 at noon. They are Miss Faye Bretz and Miss Meredith Nelson.

Exploited Wildlife 'Babies' Are Ignored By Conservation Chiefs

Inhumane traffic in fawn deer and cub bear and other Michigan "wildlife babies" is growing, with the state conservation commission discreetly looking the other way.

Listless deer in dirty enclosures, dispirited bear pacing a short length of heavy chain—these and other animals that under the law are owned by the people of the state are being exploited in increasing numbers.

Operators of road houses, bars, gas stations, and some tourist and resort places use the animals to entertain the curious and attract trade. Some of the animals are disposed of to traveling shows while the more fortunate few find refuge in well-run zoos and parks.

Finders Are Keepers

How do wild animals come into the possession of those whose only interest is to make money from their exhibition?

In almost every instance the animals are taken as babies, are picked up by persons who believe they are "orphans" or have been "deserted" by the mother. Sometimes they are deliberately taken for sale to a known customer.

Conservation officers and woodsmen know that a doe does not desert her fawn or a bear her cubs and if the young were left in the woods the mother would reject them.

The warning: "Don't pick up fawns in the woods" should be heeded.

Possession Comes First

To have any wild animal in possession an exhibition permit must be obtained; to have any game animal a possession permit must be obtained.

Despite the regulations (having the effect of law in Michigan) people take illegal possession of the animals first—and then apply for a permit.

The two types of permits (possession permits covering game animals protected under the law; exhibition permits covering any wild animal in the state) are issued directly by H. D. Ruhl, Lansing, chief of the game division of the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Application for the permit is made to the local conservation office.

Permit Procedure

The conservation officer receiving the application obtains a statement from the applicant, describing the type of cage and sanitation facilities to be provided for the animal.

This information is forwarded to the chief of the game division who issues the permit in his discretion on the basis of the officer's report and recommendation.

Illegal factor is the possession of the animal by the applicant before the permit is obtained. In most cases the fawn or cub is in possession two or three months before the application is made—if one is made at all.

Source Of Trouble

Possession of wild animals, legal and illegal, is a continuing source of trouble to the conservation officers in the field.

The "cute" fawn grows up to become troublesome, and if a buck cantankerous in rutting season—and sometimes attacks and fatally injures humans. So called "tame deer" kill more people than any other animal in Michigan's woods.

FAWN-SNATCHER'S VICTIM—This spotted fawn, mistakenly removed from its mother, is a cute pet today—but it will become troublesome and dangerous when it grows up. Tighter regulations are needed to protect wildlife "babies" from lifetime in a cage. (Daily Press Photo)

Persons with adult deer call the conservation department to remove what was once a pet and release it in the woods. By this time the animal has lost its fear of man and is less likely to survive the hardships of wild environment.

Potential Killers

On the credit side is the report that fewer wild animals are displayed at taverns and resorts in Upper Peninsula than downstate—where exploitation of the animals has resulted in complaints to the Humane Society.

But the general public is apathetic over the plight of bear caged in the hot sun and fed on bottles of pop and peanuts, with occasional slugs of whiskey and pop corn to vary their diet.

Crowds are also attracted to "garbage dump shows" where wild bear amuse visitors. Amusement generated in watchers viewing a mother bear and her cubs crawling around in a mess of garbage is difficult to understand, but the shows go on year after year.

And conservation officers agree that bear and deer that lose their fear of man become camp raiders—and potential killers.

Supervisors Step In

An established zoo might be said to be the only place where wild animals are kept without being exploited.

Complicating the picture regarding the taking and possession of bear is the law permitting boards of supervisors to list bear as predators in their counties. The bear population of the state is practically controlled by the supervisors, making state-wide regulation most difficult.

Yet the state is responsible in the last analysis, as trouble at Harrison in recent years has proved. There "Spikehorn" Meyer and his bears, and another outfit nearby were under conservation department pressure to provide sanitary conditions for the bear and strong cages for the protection of the public.

Adequate Regulation

The Michigan conservation commission is responsible for establishing regulations for keeping wild animals under conservation department permit.

The regulations are inadequate. The department largely fails in enforcement efforts.

Suggested amendment of the regulations, to assure control, halt exploitation and abuse of the animals, should include the following:

1—Application for a permit must be made BEFORE the animal is in possession. Persons must want the animal and make plans for its proper care.

2—Definite requirements for the care of the animal should be established: Adequate cage size, sanitation, proper feeding and watering.

3—The above requirements must be met before a permit will be issued to an applicant.

"If we had regulations like that not many people would ask for permits," said a conservation officer. "And that would be good for the animals and everybody else."

The thing wrong with religion today the world over, and especially in America, is that it is too centrally heated and comfortable.—Murdo E. MacDonald, Pastor of an Edinburgh Presbyterian church.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

PERHAPS NEVER—When trustees and officers of the Michigan Historical Commission gathered at Fayette a couple weeks ago—some for a first visit—they were pleasantly impressed with the Garden peninsula area.

Mrs. Donald Adams, Drayton Plains, president of the Historical Commission and vice president of the Historical Society, voiced enthusiastic praise of Fayette, its natural beauty and historical interest.

Dr. Lewis Beesen, Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission and Historical Society, was equally impressed and made discreet inquiries concerning local sentiment toward proposals for a state park there.

He found that local people recall with disappointment the unsuccessful attempt to have the state acquire Fayette a few years ago. And he found that while hope still exists, there is a feeling the state is uninterested.

IN AGREEMENT—Since then the Fayette harbor property has changed hands and is now in the ownership of Miss Gladys Edwards, Detroit, whose announced plans for development of a resort there are still in the planning stage.

The parks department of the Michigan Department of Conservation, headed by Arthur C. Elmer, made extensive surveys of Fayette and Garden Peninsula with acquisition of property for a state park in mind. It is known that not one but several sites were considered.

All of the recommendations of officials within the conservation department were favorable. But the conservation commission took no action, following a policy of developing what it has in parks before urging the legislature to appropriate for the purchase of additional park sites.

WELL LOCATED—There are two state parks on the Lake Michigan shore in the Upper Peninsula. One is Wells state park in Menominee county, the other at St. Ignace on the Straits.

In between is approximately 170 miles of shoreline highway, most heavily traveled in the U. P., without a shoreline state park for the accommodation of visitors.

The naturally scenic Fayette section is located midway between the two existing parks on Lake Michigan in the U. P. and should receive more than passing attention as a state park site.

REVIVAL OF INTEREST—The Fayette picnic, sponsored by the Delta County Historical Society, that brought to Fayette some of the leaders in the field of history in the state, may help in reviving interest in the state park project in Lansing.

There is now under way a movement to have the legislature establish a commission of state parks that would be more representative of all public interests—including members representing conservation, highways, history, recreation, and the tourist industry.

Perhaps from such a commission would come a more optimistic approach to the question of land purchases for state parks, not limited by the restrictive policy of the conservation commission.

THE COST FACTOR—In most instances the more desirable sites for possible state parks is rapidly changing hands and the value is going up accordingly.

The policy of not purchasing sites when they are available to the state will, in the long run, cost more as the volume of visitors increases and public pressure makes purchase mandatory.

To acquire desirable sites now, even if park development is slow, is better than no action at all—if public good is given first consideration.

Take My Word For It... Frank Colby Jr.

READERS' CORNER

Q. How do you like this word: hexachlorohydrodimethanophthalene. It's the name of a new bull weevil insecticide; and the caption under the ad I read states: "No wonder it took years of research and testing to develop!"—Dr. S. D.

Answer: I can believe that. And it probably took more years than that for anyone to learn to spell it.

Q. I submit a new word—my own coinage—for your approval: A liberalist is an anythingarian. He becomes all things to all people at all times. Of course, this is a pretty difficult thing to do. If this kind of philosophy is following to its logical conclusion, it makes a liberalist a nothingarian.—M. K. S.

A. Of you could combine the two and call him a notanythingarian.

Q. Please help me with the following sentence: Mary Jones and Mary Esther Jones (is? are?) the same person.

A. Should be: Mary Jones and Mary Esther Jones are the same person. This is another way of saying, "Mary Jones and Mary Esther Jones refer to the same person."

Q. Whenever meetings are held, and it is necessary to use parliamentary procedure, people insist on saying "I make a motion." Is this correct? Please discuss.—Mrs. R. H.

A. No. According to Robert's "Rules of Order" the correct way to make a motion (proposal) is by saying "I move that," which is equivalent to saying "I propose that..." Thus, after a member "moves" (proposes) that a course of action be taken, or that a resolution be adopted, the suggestion then becomes a "motion."

Q. Why do we speak of some colors as "warm" colors, and of others as being "cool"?—J. D.

A. To touch even lightly upon the subject of color is to enter where angels fear to tread." Generally, however, when a color is associated with something which gives off heat, red like fire, yellow or orange like the sun, etc., these colors are thought of as warm colors. If the color produces a sense of coolness, it is called a cool color.

If prices continue to go up, we'll have to stop laughing at the hermit who lives on wild growth.

Glamor Group Intrigues Bob

Says Offsprings Get Bad Break, However

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—I find an unholy fascination in the carryings-on of the Titans of the glamor group, and wait breathlessly for bulletins from the press agents of the Ingrids and Ritas and Robertos and Alys and Orsons. But occasionally I begin to wonder about the souvenirs they leave behind as mementos of their brief enchantments.

It will be an interesting sociological investigation, some years hence, to run down the respective lives of little Pia Lindstrom and Roberto Rossellini and Rebecca Welles to see how they're doing after such colorful introduction to society at the hands of their brilliant parents. They have been rather accidental sidebars to unions founded more on flashbulbs than intent of permanency, and constitute a sort of lost battalion of their very own.

I note now that young Yasmin, the fruit of the brief and blissful arrangement between the glamorous, if balding, Aly Kahn and the beautiful Rita Hayworth is the subject of a headline quarrel over how much Rita really needs to raise the young'un according to Hollywood standards. Her first and mild asking price was only three million bucks—she didn't want anything for herself—which seems cheap enough for a global tour which was consummated by marriage.

But the Aly Kahn seems to figure this high rental on a wife who left him for no publicized reason save boredom and dislike of safaris, even though it was a very small safari. The junior-grade Kahn is a Moslem, and does not regard females as terribly important and he figures that about eight grand a year is enough to keep his daughter fed, watered and diapered. This despite the fact that Papa Khan occasionally gets weighed in diamonds, and the old boy's income is such that even the accountants have only a spiritual idea of the annual take from the faithful.

Typo Union Officers Given Big Stick To Use On Publishers

By BEM PRICE

ATLANTA — (AP) The International Typographical Union wound up its convention here by voting to give officers an even bigger stick to use on newspaper publishers.

In wrapping up their 53rd session delegates voted not only to remain in the newspaper publishing business but to expand if necessary.

POWERS, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. Harland Hanson announce the birth of a son, Tuesday, August 21, in St. Joseph-Lloyd's hospital in Menominee.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fleetwood are the parents of a son, born Friday night in St. Joseph-Lloyd's hospital in Menominee.

Personals

Misses Stella, Minnie and Carolyn Peterson and their nephew, Paul Moore, of Green Bay, have returned from a 10-day pleasure trip through the Black Hills of South Dakota, Denver and other places of interest in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beiswanger, son Jim and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bant of Calumet visited at the Theodore Fazer home Sunday, and at the U. P. State fair in Escanaba Saturday.

Miss Charlene Loeffler of Green Bay spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Loeffler.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin De Pas and two children of the Sault visited with the Ed Veeger family Sunday. Mrs. De Pas and children will spend the next two weeks here with relatives.

Corporal Elmer Veeger has returned to Tampa, Fla., where he is in training in the Air Corps, after a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Veeger.

Mrs. William Brazzil of Detroit visited with relatives here Wednesday.

The closing of the meeting, used as a sounding board for attacks on Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio), the Taft-Hartley law and the 82nd Congress, also saw the delegates vote to steer clear of the National Labor Relations Board.

The final session yesterday was marked by a vote of confidence in the administration of President Woodruff Randolph.

By a roll call vote of 213 to 62, and despite protests over Randolph's curt ending of debate, the delegates agreed to keep secret a detailed financial report on Unityp, Inc.

Unityp is the organization set up to own and operate tabloid size newspapers in towns where the printers have established, or plan to establish newspapers.

The corporation now has in operation eight dailies and each was set up for the avowed purpose of providing jobs for members and competition for "anti-union" publishers in monopoly towns.

By a vote of 207 to 48 the delegates approved Randolph's refusal to file an anti-Communist oath with the NLRB.

Randolph long has contended the ITU wants no part of the NLRB.

Leland Shores, delegate from St. Louis, argued that refusal to file the affidavit with the NLRB has hurt the union. He said the number of locals had dropped from 845 to 804.

The ITU previously adopted a committee report claiming jurisdiction over the rapidly expanding field of teletyping.

This is the process whereby a perforated tape is fed into a machine to set type.

The report specifically exempted the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service from the jurisdiction of the ITU.

The three wire services have contracts with the commercial Telegraphers Union whose members have long sent news over long distance circuits.

Closets Six
Cubage 14,000 ft.
Dimensions 30x24 ft.

Measuring 30' x 24' in dimensions, "The Camden" has a cubage of 14,000' and could be built on a 40-foot lot. No garage is specified in the plan, but one could be added, for a slight extra charge, by working out the detail with your builder. Of course, if you plan to have a garage, you'll need a larger lot.

Large Living Room
The front entrance opens directly into the living room which measures 16'6" x 12' and is the largest room in "The Camden". Since there is no entry hall, which really would be a waste of precious space in so small a house, you'll find the large closet in the back right corner of the living room an excellent and convenient spot to hang visitors' wraps. For economy the fireplace hallway separating the kitchen from the back entry—a feature which will be especially appreciated in the cold weather when the youngsters seem to be forever running in and out of the house. You'll appreciate, and make good use of, the large broom closet located in this back hallway.

The large bathroom contains both a tub and a shower and is amply lighted by the one window in its back wall. This bath is so located that it is conveniently near to both bedrooms. At the same time it serves the purpose of keeping kitchen noises from penetrating to the back bedroom and disturbing the late sleeper, youngsters who have been put to bed early, or anyone who is sick in the house.

Opening on the central hallway just before the door to the back bedroom is a large closet which will come in handy for just about any storage purpose, for, as any housewife knows, there's never too much storage space in a house. With good cross ventilation and plenty of light guaranteed by two windows on adjoining walls, the back bedroom measures 9' x 8'6". This room boasts a large closet, a few steps from the refrigerator, against the right wall, and the sink and array of cabinets arranged in and along the back and left walls.

There are two windows in the kitchen; one in the right wall and the other in the back wall, above the sink. There is a little

Twelve feet square in dimensions, the master bedroom also boasts good cross ventilation with its two windows on adjoining walls. The long unbroken right wall could easily accommodate a large dresser or any other large piece of bedroom furniture.

In the full cement basement the heating plant should be placed under the living room, with the laundry under the kitchen or bath. And, in a house as small as "The Camden" you'll find a basement recreation room doubly useful, so be sure to take advantage of the available basement space to build such a room.

Wait Window Company

1615 Ludington St.

Escanaba, Michigan

Dear Mr. Wait:

In 1949 I bought Rusco windows for my upstairs. Since then I have completed my home with Rusco windows and Combination Doors.

I cannot say too much in praise of your windows. They eliminate practically all the traffic noise, as I live on 10th street, just one block off Ludington.

There is hardly any dust now and, believe me, they should cut down the fuel bill considerably.

The Rusco Combination Doors are beauties and, along with the Rusco Combination Windows, add dollars to the appearance of my home.

Please do not hesitate to use my name when a prospect is a bit hesitant in buying Rusco Combination Windows and Doors. My telephone number is 2745-W if any prospect would like to call me at any time.

Sincerely,

Zella Blake

Grand Marais Family Tours To West Coast

GRAND MARAIS—Mrs. Theodore Senecal writes that she, her husband and their 11-year-old son, Jackie, have arrived in Manteca, Calif., on their vacation motor trip to visit Mrs. Senecal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Roberts, at their new home there.

Leaving Grand Marais on the morning of August 10, the start of their journey carried them through Escanaba and down M-35 to Green Bay and from there westward across Wisconsin.

Relating the trip through Wisconsin, Mrs. Senecal wrote: "Heading across Wisconsin we passed acres of corn and huge herds of cattle on the rolling hills of the nationally famous Dairyland."

Iowa's Road Marking

She told of the surprise they got out of meeting with Iowa's road-marking system. "Upon entering Iowa, we noticed immediately the entirely different road markings. In Iowa the stripe is painted down the center of each lane in no-passing zones instead of in the center of the highway, and it was a bit confusing."

"Near Marshalltown we passed a huge U. S. Army convoy waiting at a rendezvous point, and a few minutes later met another convoy with miles of assorted vehicles apparently headed for the same point. At each major junction for miles we passed command cars with the men scanning the approaching motor cars. A short time later, we met a third convoy enroute to the rendezvous. Our 11-year old, Jackie, was inspired to ask many question as the seemingly endless line of cars, jeeps and trucks passed by."

"From Rock Spring, Wyo., we headed southward toward Sault Lake City, U., along the old Mormon Trail. A railroad, carved out of the rocky mountainside, paralleled the highway from a higher level, winding its way around the sheer rock walls and through the mountain tunnels. The towering mountainsides were sparsely covered by evergreen trees, and at the bottom of the canyon, a stream wound its way serenely over the stones, bordered by a narrow ribbon of trailing willows."

Across Salt Lake Flats

"Across the white salt flats we caught our first view of the famous Salt Lake shimmering a beautiful pale blue in the sun. It has on its shore a huge amusement park as well as Black Rock Public beach and docks that brag of sponsoring 'the saltiest sailors in the world.' The Salt Lake salt content makes staying afloat while swimming comparatively easy, but makes a follow-up shower also imperative."

"Further on, the salt flats were fenced with a barrier similar to our snow fence. The Bonneville salt flats of Toole county, U., compose the world's fastest speedway. It lies along US-50."

"As we entered Nevada, the natives said 'No speed limit, no closing hour, lots of games and gambling, liquor day and night.' The neon signs before the gaming rooms and bars were among the

Donner Pass

"We traveled on toward the Donner pass, but detoured southward toward Lake Tahoe in the High Sierras, one of the highest, largest and most beautiful mountain lakes in the world. It lies just over the 5,000 ft. rim of tree-studded mountains south of Reno on the California - Nevada line, and was once called Lake of the Sky by Mark Twain. The waters vary from a deep, clear blue to the pure green that gives Emerald Bay its name. The waters are so clear that, on sunny days, objects 65 ft. down are clearly visible. Our Jackie found how deceptive the depth can be when he tried to stand up about ten feet out. Although the sand was perfectly visible, he couldn't touch it."

"The motor trip on into Sacramento, Calif., ended in the fertile San Joaquin Valley. The journey ended at the Roberts' newly built home on Yosemite in Manteca, Calif., at 6 p. m. August 13." Mrs. Senecal concluded that, "We are having a wonderful time and plan family jaunts to Yosemite National Park, San Francisco, China town and a Nevada gold mine soon. Everyone here is very well."

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

YOUNG Mrs. Hubbard

Went to the cupboard And found that her toaster was shot. She liked toasted bread, So she took it to Ted. Who repaired it right there on the spot.

Electrical equipment breakdowns are always popping up at my house, too. But I don't get burned up any more; I just rely on Ted's Fix-it Shop for current repairs.

I KNOW why they call it cold cash — I never have it long enough to warm it up! Ward's will help you hold on to it a little longer when you buy a new jacket for junior (6 to 18). Just $1 down will hold a jacket till Oct. 1st. The sight of them will warm your heart; quilted tackle twill with a warm quilted lining, mouton collar, zipper front with anchor buckle, surcoat style, $13.98. In football twill with cuffed sleeves and bottom, $8.98. You'll make things hot for him with a jacket from Ward's!

A DISGRUNTLED movie star was heard to complain, "One day you're making love to Betty Grable and the next day you're a has-been." To which his friend replied, "Yeah, but look where you have been!" Well, you know lots of Hollywood has-beens, but have you heard about Pier Angeli, sensational new Italian discovery? She stars in her first American picture as "Teresa," a young war bride. Every important critic has given rave notices to "Teresa." It's the intimate, tender story of a girl who falls in love with a GI in Italy. The first half of the picture is shot against perfectly terrific Italian scenery. "Teresa" starts at the Michigan Theater on Sunday. By Wednesday hope you have been!

LOOKING for a card prize? The new milk glass at Eden's is something to be prized; but once you buy it, you'll wish you didn't have to give it away! This West-mondland Handmade Authentic Milk Glass is the finest I have seen. Stop in at Eden's to see the new shipment of covered bon-bon dishes, candle sticks, fruit bowls and ever so many pieces. The small bridge table sugar and creamers are priced at only $1.00. Wish some milk glass was in the cards for me!

A PRISONER is the only person who likes to be interrupted in the middle of a sentence! If you're a little housewife who's been sentenced to a lifetime of hard labor over the weekly laundry, why don't you let the Escanaba Steam Laundry bail you out? Once you've tasted freedom from laundry worries, you'll never want to go back to that unpleasant chore again. These crisp, shining shirts, those fluffy towels that the Escanaba Steam Laundry turn out will please both you and hubby.

THE tactful husband is the one who remembers his wife's birthday but forgets which one it is. There's a Centennial down at the Singer Sewing Center, and they're proud to claim every hundred years! In fact they're giving the presents — a 20% discount on that fabulous S2 vacuum cleaner (the last week, so hurry!) The S2 claims such new features as the automatic cord control that zips the cord out of your way with a button; twin fans for a quick pick up of dirt; and remote control handle release with no awkward foot pedals. Nothing holds a candle to the Singer S2!

THE new maid told her girl friend, "She says to serve to the left and take away from the right. How superstitious can you get?" —Guaranteed to inspire the best table etiquette at the wonderful patterns of Duncan glassware found at Amundson and Pearson. I hope every new bride-to-be will stop in to see the lovely new designs, Wild Rose and Lily of the Valley. I especially liked the latter with the Lily pattern sculptured right into the stem; 82 each. Other Duncan patterns found at Amundson and Pearson are First Love, Indian Tree and Tear Drop; from as low as $1.25.

A WOMAN may be taken for granted, but she never goes without saying! I love to get simply lyrical about my Smith-Corona Portable, but today I'll try a masculine touch and get technical!

1. Smith-Corona has quick set margins!

2. The type bar speed booster speeds up the return stroke so things don't jam up!

3. The colorspeed keyboard is easy on the eyes.

4. Typewriter dealers chose the Smith-Corona portable 2 to 1 over any other make!

The Office Service Company would love to send you off to college with a Smith-Corona!

SOMEONE defined a Dollar Sign as a capital S that has been double crossed! But I'm on the level when I give you the low down on a new dish-washer that is economical to buy and radically cheap to operate. It's the new Dishmaster sold by Erickson Mill-work. Here's a completely new idea in dishwashing. You operate a brush on the end of a hose attachment. Push button controls give you soapy or clear water. A teaspoonful of detergent does the dishes for five meals! Better see the Dishmaster at Erickson's — only a drop in the budget!

It's still a little early to tell, but it sure looks like three of the backfield positions on the St. Joe grid squad are already filled . . . John Martinac is running the fullback position, Pete Kutches the left half slot and Bill Baker the quarterback post . . . Fullback Martinac, 160 pounds, looks mighty rugged . . . Baker goes only about 125 but handles himself well.

Fred Boddy, letterman from last season, was slated for right half duty this season but is lost through injuries in a recent auto accident . . . Two most promising candidates for the position appear to be Don Marsicek, a junior, and Bill Maycunich, a sophomore . . . Leading line candidates are Tom Brien, center; Harlan Pepin, left guard; Jim Gravelle and Bob Sendenburgh, ends . . . The two tackle and the right guard posts appear wide open at this early date . . . Another sophomore, Guard Stan Venn, has drawn praise for practice work.

Two Upper Peninsula boys have been invited out for grid practice at the University of Michigan . . . Ben Pederson, Marquette, will be seeking a berth at tackle and Wayne Melchiori, Stambaugh, is one of five upperclassmen expected to fight it out for center . . . Roy Gustafson, Newberry, is listed with the Spartan ends and Billy Wells of Menominee is a leading half back candidate at Michigan State.

Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians is bursting with optimism . . . Not even the unfriendly September schedule which calls for the Indians to play 17 of their last 19 games on the road dims Lopez' rosy outlook . . . The schedule is actually not as bad as it looks on the surface . . . Cleveland plays only two games in New York and two in Boston . . . All the rest, except for two in Chicago, will be against second division teams.

Second and third place New York and Boston tangle nine times in the stretch, six of the games slated for New York . . . Another schedule break gives Cleveland eight days off in September.

Sunday Deadline For Qualifiers

Escanaba Club Golf Tournament Nears

Sunday is the deadline for qualifying for the annual men's championship of the Escanaba Golf and Country club. Nine-hole qualifying rounds will be accepted.

The low 16 qualifiers will be in the championship flight. All other flights will consist of eight players. Players who lose in the first round of the championship flight will comprise the first flight.

Match Schedule

First round matches must be completed by Friday, August 31. The quarterfinals of the championship flight and semifinals of all other flights will be played Saturday, Sept. 1, and on Sunday morning, Sept. 2, the championship semi-finals and all other flight flights will be played.

Club officials pointed out that in this way Sunday afternoon, Sept. 2, will be reserved for the championship finals, and a large gallery is expected to be on hand.

Senators Slug Tigers, 10-7

Second In Row For Cellar-Dwellers

DETROIT—The oft kicked-about Washington Senators, who hit town Wednesday with an 11-game losing streak, went looking for their third straight win over the Detroit Tigers today in the friendly atmosphere of Briggs stadium.

They surprised the Detroiters 10-7 yesterday, after grabbing the series opener 10-0 on Thursday.

Veteran Joe Haynes, an old warhorse who has trudged to the mound many times in relief roles, finally got into the winner's circle yesterday and hit a home run in the process.

Day Of Firsts

Haynes, second of three Washington pitchers, needed help from Tom Ferrick in the seventh inning.

It was strictly a day of "firsts" insofar as the Senators were concerned. They didn't rewrite the record book but they made some new entries.

These included: Haynes' first decision of the year. Up to yesterday, his record was 0-0.

Haynes' first home of the year.

Timely Homer

Mike McCormick's first homer of the year. This was a timely wallop for the Senator cause. It came off loser Bob Cain with the bases loaded in the third inning.

Sam Mele (No. 5) and George Kell (No. 2) also got in on the home run hitting act, but it was strictly Haynes' day.

He took over in the second inning after the Tigers jumped on Chico Marrero for a 3-0 first inning lead.

The big veteran held the Tigers at bay pretty well—except for Kell's two run homer in the fifth—until his luck ran out in the seventh.

Three quick hits sent him to the showers, but reliever Ferrick protected the Senators' lead.

The Escanaba Bears can cinch at least a share in the Tri County Baseball league championship Sunday by getting past the fast-rising Stephenson Steves.

Manager Phil Breazeau's Bears are roosting on top of the 10-team ladder with 13 wins, two losses. Another win and none of the nine clubs could pass them. And only Perronville, with two regular and two makeup games to play, could equal the Bear record.

Stephenson strengthened its bid for a first division berth with a twin win over Powers last Sunday.

Important Clash

One of the top four is going to have its grip on a playoff berth shaken tomorrow when Perronville travels to Hermansville. Perronville is in second place and Hermansville is tied with Bark River for third.

Manager Leo Knauf's Barks will be host to Daggett in what should be another win for the top division team.

Foster City, not out of the running yet, tangles with Fleetwood's Powers team Sunday at Powers. Wallace engages Wilson in the remaining league game.

OUT AT SECOND—Dale Mitchell (No. 3), Indians outfielder, is out attempting to steal second base in first inning of Cleveland Indians-New York Yankee game in Cleveland, Ohio. With Robert Avila at bat, Mitchell started for second but was tagged out on a throw from catcher Yogi Berra to short-stop Phil Rizzuto. Umpire is Bill McKinley. (NEA Telephoto)

Walker Wins Duel Against Kyle Rote

DALLAS, Tex. — (AP) — Any one in Texas will tell you today that Doak Walker is the world's greatest football player.

Doak won the heralded Walker vs. Kyle Rote duel in convincing fashion in the Cotton Bowl last night.

Doak, who they once thought was too small for pro football, scored two touchdowns, kicked a field goal, and booted three extra points as his Detroit Lions licked Kyle's New York Giants 31-21 in an exhibition game.

The battle between the two former SMU halfbacks thus ended: Walker, 18 points; Rote, none.

Playoff Series Opens In Bay De Noc League

MANISTIQUE—The first round of a playoff series among the four top teams of the Bay de Noc league will be held tomorrow afternoon, with Fayette meeting the Cardinals and Cooks playing at Trenary. Both games are called for 2:30.

Manistique, which copped the championship of the league at Rapid River Wednesday night, has a record of 12 wins and two losses. Fayette, although its record shows eight wins and six defeats, wound up the season a far more formidable nine than it started.

Pete Newhouse will pitch for Fayette with Thill catching. Norm

Jahn is slated to start on the mound for the Cardinals.
Name Most Popular
Manager Fred Lesica reported yesterday that his team should be at peak strength tomorrow, with Homer Weber back at short and Tom Ross at second.
Winners of the games at Manistique and Trenary will play a best two out of three series for a league trophy, starting Sunday, Sept. 2.
Preceding the game here tomorrow the Cardinals will select their most popular player. He will compete with other Bay de Noc team selections for the best liked league player. A trophy is to be awarded the winner.

Fans Coach Browns To Win Over Philadelphia

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Baseball fans—1,115 of them—had their say last night and were proved right in their strategy as St. Louis Browns' owner Bill Veeck staged his controversial grandstand managers night.

With three good decisions and a revised lineup that provided needed power, the fans guided their Browns to a 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

It was thus a successful climax to a "How-I'd-run-a-ball-club" contest arranged by Veeck that had set off some rather sharp critical comment from some baseball quarters. But fans thought well of it.

"Fun"
Miss Helene Boyd, a high school student who helped give the women fans a majority vote in the managers' group, said "it was pretty nice I thought. It was fun. I participated in all the decisions."

But perhaps her final remark most pleased Veeck: "I was a Cardinal fan until Veeck came to town," she admitted.

F. J. Ott, 54, had the same idea. "I think it's a good idea to bring the crowd out and let them have some fun. I've always wanted to call the plays and tonight I had the chance."

To make it a good game for the Browns, the managers made three quick decisions in the first inning. The strategy paved the way to the triumph.

First they voted to leave pitcher Ned Garver in the game after the Athletics greeted him with three quick runs. Then the fans moved the Brown infield back to work a double play that ended the inning.

No Steal

In the home half of the frame the managers voted "no" to answer a query whether base runner Sherm Lollar, a slow man, should steal second. A 3-2 count faced Cliff Mape at the plate at the time.

Mape fanned and Lollar probably would have been an easy out. Instead he later scored one of three St. Louis runs that tied the contest.

The fans made their decisions by raising "yes" or "no" signs in answer to queries offered by two coaches. The coaches won their positions by writing the most interesting letters in the contest. They were Charles E. Hughes, 24, and Clark Mitze, 38, both of St. Louis. Neither has ever played baseball.

While the fans controlled the game, Brown Manager Zack Taylor sat quietly in a rocking chair, clad in slippers and smoking a pipe.

Little League Finale Sunday

Future Cubs Will Play Undergrads

Little League baseball draws the curtain on the 1951 season here Sunday afternoon at 3:30 with an appreciation game for the fans and backers of the program. No admission will be charged.

The game will be a preview of things to come. When Gary Paler steps to the mound against the undergraduate Little League all stars, fans will see the makings of the 1952 Escanaba Cubs.

The team behind Paler will be made up of Michigan state champs in Little League play. Coach Al Ness of the Cubs will take over the club next season and begin grooming the youngsters with a 1955 Legion championship team in mind.

Lineups
Other members of the team will have Rick Erickson at first, Cliff O'Donnell at second, Billy Goodreau at short, Duane Margener at third, Gary Hirm, Al Erickson and Tony Kutches in the outfield and Bob Dubord behind the plate.

Others on the squad include Charles McCarthy, Sean Lewis, Billy Mauves, Mike Venne, Bob Hanson and Gene Chriske.

Against this club, Manager A. M. McComber will have four players back from this year's title team. Buck Flath will start on the mound for the under grads.

Tony Derkis will be on first, Billy Lindstrom on second, Bob Lancour on short, Frank Katerinski at third with Bob Stropich, Dave Nordin and Bob Snow in the outfield and Mike Gregoire catching.

Reserves are Ken Hamilton, John Wellman, Gene Sequin, Mike Mileski, Ken Schwalbach and Dave Andrews.

Menominee Host To Open Golf Tourney

The fourth annual Upper Peninsula open golf tournament will be held at the Riverside Country club Sunday and Monday, Sept. 16-17.

Entry deadline is Monday, Sept. 10 and entries should be sent to Cotton Leonard, club pro. On the opening day of the tourney, 18 holes of two-man best ball (professional, amateur-amateur) and four-man best ball (any combination) will be staged.

Twenty-seven holes of medal play for the U. P. individual open and the U. P. team open championships will be held Monday, Sept. 17.

Woodling Homers Yanks To 2-0 Victory Over Indians

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Gene Woodling, 29-year-old outfielder of the New York Yankees, is waging a one man drive to prevent the Cleveland Indians from winning the 1951 American League pennant.

Woodling, a native Ohioan and one time member of the tribe, put the Yankees back into the thick of the fight last night as he poled a two-run two-out homer in the seventh inning off Early Wynn to lead the Bombers to a 2-0 triumph. The conquest moved the Yanks to within two games of the Indians.

Third Off Wynn

Woodling's dramatic homer was his fifth decisive four-bagger against the Indians. It also was his third off Wynn, each blow coming exactly one month apart.

The little outfielder started his one man crusade June 23 when he homered off Bob Lemon with one on in a 7-6 Yankee victory. On June 24th he beat Wynn, 5-3, with a two-run homer in the eighth.

July 12th he homered off Bob

Germany's Top Red All-Out For Moscow

AP Newsfeatures
BERLIN — Germany's No. 1 Communist would stop at nothing to further the Moscow creed.

Walter Ulbricht has a sharp tongue, a Lenin beard, and runs the show in East Germany.

He holds the corresponding powerful post in the East German Socialist Unity party that Stalin used to climb to supreme power in Russia's secretariat general.

With it the slight, 57-year-old Ulbricht stays in the background, driving his party toward its goal: Communization of Germany.

Ulbricht, who reportedly has Stalin's ear, became a party liner in the earliest days of the Weimar republic. He had been a cabinet maker by trade.

The Nazis ran him out and he went to Moscow, later to Spain, and finally returned to Germany with victorious Russian armies wearing a Soviet officer's uniform.

When the Reds got the Communist party rolling again in Germany Ulbricht became known as the "hatchet man." He lurked in the background as only a deputy prime minister.

But nobody in East Germany was fooled. When his party decided to name a secretary general there was only one candidate — Walter Ulbricht.

Under his relentless drive, East German Communists work ceaselessly and without scruple.

The little Leipzig radical with the cold eyes is riding the crest, but he never is ostentatious. He rides in a shiny big sedan. But his private life is not lavish.

Recently he assumed the attitude of a patron saint for the Free German Youth (FDJ), the Communist counterpart of the Hitler Youth of the Nazi era.

Ulbricht, who has closer ties with Russia than any other German, last year made three trips to Moscow.

Passengers Protest Millionaire Label

SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — Some of the passengers on the round-the-world liner Caronia stepped ashore here recently when the ship docked and said they were unhappy about the ship's reputation as being on a "millionaires' cruise."

Lewis Cole, owner of a chain of Kentucky self-service stores referred to newspaper reports which have called the Caronia the "millionaire liner" and stated that all the passengers were "nice people who do not like all the money publicity." He added that while the ship was certainly not making a poor man's trip, the big percentage of passengers were far from being millionaires. The Caronia is carrying 233 passengers, mostly Americans, on a 104-day cruise.

Germans Complain About Army Fields

BONN — (AP) — Allied mock battlefields in West Germany cover an area over half the size of the Duchy of Luxembourg. German officials reported. U. S. and British troops alone use 529 square miles for training grounds. The French also have marked off large military areas.

Allied commanders are now studying a memorandum proposing a German advisory board to prevent excessive damage to agriculture and forestry. The memorandum expressed fear that future transfer of Allied reinforcements to Germany would lead to abandonment of whole villages to provide better firing ranges for artillery.

Demented Negro Clears Gruesome Belle Isle Slaying

DETROIT — (AP) — An apparently crazed man who walked the streets "looking for someone to kill" was held today in a gruesome knife and bludgeon slaying.

His confession—which unbelieving police at first refused to accept—cleared up yesterday's mysterious Belle Isle slaying.

It was the wanton killing of Robert McKenzie, 55, ex-confidence man and burglar with a police record in several cities.

McKenzie, more recently a tramp, was found on the Detroit river island with his head bashed in and his throat cut from ear to ear.

As police looked for clues, Jeffrey Davis, 41, a Negro, hitch-hiked a ride with a policeman on Jefferson avenue near the Belle Isle bridge.

He said he was broke and wanted to go to jail. But on the way downtown officer Vernon Foote said Davis blurted out that he had killed a man "on the island this morning."

Foote said he put this down as the ramblings of a disordered imagination. McKenzie's death had not then been reported.

Meantime, two sunbathers found McKenzie's body. Davis then was locked up. Police said he will be charged with murder.

Naughty New Orleans Nude Statuary Sold To Cocktail Lounge

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — The "naughty" nudes of New Orleans today faced a decorative future in a cocktail lounge.

The 1,400 pounds of bronze statuary was auctioned off yesterday by embarrassed city fathers to A. F. Truxillo for $2,400.

Cherub-faced Truxillo said he would place the art object—a nude mother, father and son—in his hotel cocktail lounge.

And that, snapped a matron, is where it should have been in the first place.

The city commissioned sculptor Enrique Alvarez of New Orleans to do the piece for $1,800 to adorn the outside of the new municipal courts building.

After a public appearance last spring, the city covered it with a tarpaulin following a storm of protest.

Efforts to get Alvarez to add loin cloths or fig leaves were fruitless.

Next Move Left To Communists In Korean Dickering

content, came as no surprise to observers here.

They said he could hardly apologize for incidents he had already branded as "manufactured in advance."

Nor, the observers added, can the Reds accept the blast as the "satisfactory" answer they demanded.

The message was delivered to a Chinese liaison officer, a Colonel Chang, at the Red outpost in Panmunjom.

Colonel Slapped Down

South Korean Lt. Col. Lee Soo Yong flew there by helicopter.

When he began speaking to Chang in English, the Red colonel barked "Speak Korean."

Lee snapped, "I can talk in any language I want to. It's up to me what I speak."

Ridgway's message was in a yellow envelope. Lee gave this to Chang with these words:

"I am ordered by Admiral Joy to deliver this message from General Ridgway to Kim Il Sung and Peng Teh-Huai."

Chang took the envelope without a word, climbed into his jeep, and was driven off toward Kaesong.

Before Lee's arrival, AP Correspondent Robert B. Torkman asked Chang, "Will there be any more meetings?"

Chang replied, "It's up to you." Ridgway's message took care of that.

Now it's up to the Communists.

One Handed Driving In An Emergency

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — (AP) — Machinist Cyril Kuchler had his hands full when the stork suddenly arrived. He was driving his wife, Frances, to the hospital when his car was tied up in traffic. Then things began to happen.

Mrs. Kuchler gave birth to the baby, a nine and one half pound daughter and the couple's sixth child, in the front seat of the car. Kuchler didn't stop. He helped his wife as much as he could, clutched the baby in one hand, and kept going the final three blocks. He said:

"I was so busy holding the baby in my right arm, driving with my left, and honking the horn with my elbow I didn't have a chance to get excited until it was all over."
